

GLAD TIDINGS FOR LITTLE PEOPLE IN LETTERS RECEIVED

Good Fellows Ask Names and Tell How Many Children
They Will Make Happy
With Gifts

BUT FEW DAYS REMAIN

Every day brings letters to The Review addressed to Mr. A. Good Fellow, and each of those letters means Christmas joy for one or more children of Bisbee who would otherwise be joyless. The movement is spreading over the field, and the field is broad enough to give ample room for the spread. While already a Merry Christmas is assured for numbers of unfortunate Bisbee boys and girls, there are still many children here for whom no provision has as yet been made. And while the letters bring tidings of joy, there are constantly being received other letters, mostly childish scrawls, that tell as best the little writers can of hopes and of fears, of the fear that Santa Claus will overlook the writer and his or her little brothers and sisters, and of the hope that if such be the case, at least some Mr. or Mrs. Good Fellow will not slight them, but will take the place of the recalcitrant or forgetful old saint.

Dear Mr. Good Fellow: Please send me the names, ages and sex of six children for whom I may provide presents for Christmas. The idea is a splendid one, and I am glad to help," writes one good fellow.

Another uses the form of letter contained in the Review each day, but does not state how many. Still another asks for the names of four, and sends Christmas greetings to another Good Fellow, and yet another also asks for four on one of the clipped coupons. And all of these will be provided with the list they ask for from Mr. Good Fellow, and he wishes to each and every one of them and to all other Good Fellows the Merriest Christmas of their lives, and feels certain that in the joy of giving unto these little ones, in the sight of their happiness on Christmas day, his wishes are certain to be satisfied.

Time is flying. It is necessary to remind the Good Fellows who are delaying a little, of this. To do Christmas shopping before the last few days is always advisable, and as many as

Waste Water Power
(Buffalo Times)

By the use of the excess flow of water power equivalent to what could be produced by 6,700,000 tons of coal at the price prevailing, would cost about $18,500,000, the utilization by the water for power represents an annual saving of that amount of money. The figures suggest the enormous amount of potential energy that is running to waste in the unused water power of the country.

Not That Henry James
(Houston Chronicle)

Henry James' poem in the Los Angeles Tribune, beginning, "The hippo is a fearsome thing when found with rage and snort, his best to run away from there and let the beast exhaust," is not by the famous novelist, who would be more famous if he could write so divertingly.

Ancient Needle Factory?

The discovery of a prehistoric needle factory at a prehistoric lake village near Glasbury, England, roused much interest recently. The dwellings were placed on mounds of clay raised above the level of the water. The framework of a primitive loom was found under one mound, and the number of broken bone needles and bone splinters discovered in another mound led the explorers to think that it may have been the site of an ancient needle factory.

Fashions Change Little.

From the fresco paintings of women in the Cretan palaces of the period about 2,000 B. C. it is learned that the women of that time pinched in their waists, had flounced or accordion plaited skirts, wore an elaborate coiffure on their heads, shoes with high heels and hats which might have come from a Parisian hat shop, while one woman might be described as wearing a jupe culotte.

Work and Prayer.

Work with all your might; but trust not in the least in your work. Pray with all your might for the blessing of God; but work, at the same time, with all diligence, with all patience, with all perseverance. Pray, then, and work. Work and pray, and this all the days of your life.—George Muller.

possible should send in their applications, clipped from The Review, as soon as possible, so that the lists may be generally sent out the first of next week.

IF DISCOURAGED NOT CAST DOWN OR BROKEN UP

The Situation in Which the Republican Organization
Finds Itself

WORST IS YET TO COME

The republicans took the count Tuesday in Cochise they are already getting ready for the next state campaign, a year hence, when a complete set of state officers and a congressman will be elected. Harry Locke, formerly postmaster at Courtland, who managed the campaign just closed for the republicans, will again be in charge of the campaign. The republicans are eminently satisfied with the manner in which Locke managed the campaign and a high authority of that party stated yesterday that Locke would be in charge of the next one.

Mr. Locke himself said that he had no definite plans for the interim, but he will likely remain in Bisbee. Mr. Locke was seen at republican headquarters yesterday morning, getting off the last batch of letters. The office was closed up yesterday afternoon. The floor of the office was littered with torn telegrams, printed dope sheets, cigar stamps, candidate cards, posters, match heads, evidences of the Tuesday night vigil.

The republicans are taking their defeat good-naturedly—not to say gracefully—and declare that they will "come back" in the next election. Its county organization will remain intact and plans for capturing the state in 1912 will be laid soon after January 1.

A splendid example of a good loser is Will White, defeated candidate for sheriff. He was one of the first to apprise Wheeler of his victory and to wire his congratulations, which he did soon after hearing of the democratic vote in Lowell, the banner precinct. "I have the consolation of knowing that I waged a clean campaign," said Mr. White, "and I have no sore spots for anyone."

At republican headquarters yesterday it was stated that every republican in the county had voted. The campaign manager had lists of all voters in every precinct in the county and tab was kept of every vote. These lists show that practically the entire republican strength in the county registered a choice at the ballot box. The lists also show that there were quite a number of democrats who did not vote at all.

A number of instances of frank tickets are being related. In one of the Bisbee wards there were several ballots on which the voter had voted against the constitutional amendment and nothing else. In another Bisbee ward a number of socialists voted for John Wilson.

At republican headquarters the democratic victory was accounted for in this wise: "There are more democrats than there are republicans."

There was some comment in Bisbee yesterday on the declaration of George U. Young, read out from Phoenix, that he would be a candidate for governor in 1912 as a progressive republican, indicating thus early that the G. O. P. will have an interesting conflict on its hands next year.

Young was a candidate against Wells in the republican primary and his campaign utterances were strongly progressive. It was stated by Phoenix newspapers that Young refused to take the stump for Wells in the campaign just closed but Young denied it and stated that press of business prevented his taking part in the campaign on behalf of Wells.

The republican party was in the hands of the regular organization in the last campaign and there has been no recantation since Tuesday's election. The trend of affairs at Washington will exert a strong influence on the campaign of the republicans in Arizona in the state election of 1912. If Taft is defeated in the republican national convention, the 1912 republican state ticket in Arizona will more than likely be progressive.

A WARM PLACE FOR MR. HICKS

As Honored Guest at Cochise
County Ratification
Meeting

There will be no vacant chairs at the democratic ratification to be held in Bisbee in celebration and commemoration of the victory at the polls Tuesday, Chas. Hicks, the single successful republican candidate, who was elected county treasurer, has been invited to be present and accepted the invitation, so that the official roster of Cochise county will be present. For the orators of the evening the correct form of address will be "Fellow democrats and Mr. Hicks." Courtesy will require that when democratic orators are throwing the harpoon into the Dod Gasted Old Party they shall say, "With the permission of Mr. Hicks."

When the democratic fellowship feeling sets to going good and warm it would be surprising if the doors of the party were thrown open and Mr. Hicks invited into the fold and Mr. Hicks may very properly inquire "What's the use?" Apparently there isn't any. Mr. Hicks' election when all his comrades feel mortally wounded by a cruel, soft-soiled ballot, is a remarkable tribute to his likeable personality. In street talk it is said that Hicks was the only man in the county who could beat Ramsey. Both are old timers of the metal of the range.

EDUCATIONAL TRIP OF MR. PHILBROOK

Chas. F. Philbrook, superintendent of the schools of the Bisbee district, and a member of the legislative committee of the territorial education board, left yesterday morning for Phoenix to attend a meeting of his committee. The others members of the committee, in addition to the territorial superintendent of education are President A. H. Wilde, of the University of Arizona, President Blome of the Flagstaff Normal, and President Mathews of the Tempe Normal.

The purpose of the committee meeting is to suggest changes in the state this morning for a two day session. Just what changes will be recommended is not known, but they will probably be slight ones, according to Professor Philbrook. Arizona's school legislation is practically in the hands of the committee, as its recommendations regarding these laws is usually carried out by the legislature. In this manner Arizona has probably come nearer eliminating the schools from politics than any other state.

Diplomatic Menus.

An interesting collection has just been added to the museum in connection with the French ministry of foreign affairs. The collection is the gift of M. Jean Fabre, and it consists of menus of dinners and luncheons given by French diplomatic representatives abroad during the last 50 years. What a boon this will be to chefs if they are permitted to consult this collection, which is contained in 40 albums, and it is quite within the range of possibility that diplomats will not be above drawing inspiration from the books. We believe the Austrian emperor has a somewhat similar collection.—London Globe.

Singular.

We noted yesterday the drowning of a boy named Johnny Ward in Mill river, and stated his body had not been found. That night a man who is familiar with the circumstances of the case had a dream in which he saw the boy, so he states, clinging to a post under a building. Yesterday a careful search for the body was made, and it was found under Daniels' mill on Mill street, the arms of the lad firmly clasped about a piece of timber used for a support to the building. The finding of the body in the position as seen in the dream is singular.—Hartford Courant.

Ink Spots.

These troublesome stains may be removed by an application of equal parts of citric acid and cream of tartar melted on a plate. Mix and rub over the stains and then wash out carefully. In almost all cases the ink will disappear at once without injury to the color. Stains that have been hardened may require several treatments before they yield.—Woman's Home Companion.

Telephones on St. Bernard.

The monks of St. Bernard have fitted the refuge huts in the most perilous spots with telephones, which will enable travelers in distress to ring up for assistance.

Easy-Going Ruler.

The famous German traveler, Otto Klorer, tells of an easy-going Chinese prince whom he visited in the Laos states, while on his way from Siam to Tonquin. This prince leaves public affairs to his wife, and when he has papers to sign he does so without looking at them. He has had his throne placed in the kitchen of the palace, so that he can receive visitors and watch the preparation of his meals at the same time. His subjects are the most contented people imaginable, and Mr. Klorer thinks that he has discovered the secret for a new comic opera in this little state.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, cold chills in throat after eating, stomach grow or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or flimsy appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a potent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. MIAMI ARIZONA

The town of Miami is founded on the third largest orebody in the United States and the fourth largest in the world. The tonnage of blocked ore in the Miami District at the present time, amounting to $270,000,000, set value, will furnish employment for 3,000 men for at least 20 years.

The recent increase in production of the Miami Copper Company has increased the number of men employed to 900. This will be further increased January 1st, by 200, making a total of 1,100 men employed in the Miami District.

Negotiations are now under way for the consolidation of the Miami, Inspiration and Live Oak properties. The consolidation of these properties will mean the production of 10,000,000 lbs of copper per month with a pay-roll of over $200,000.00 per month or $2,400,000.00 per year.

Now is the time to buy Miami real estate. Business lots $600 up. Residence lots $50.00 to $300.00. Lots sold on installment plan.

A Very Polite Letter

London Chronicle: The politest intimation ever addressed was probably that of the governor of Bombay to the man about to be hanged. The execution was fixed for 1 o'clock, and the governor was to sail for England on leave two hours later. But the time for the boat's sailing was changed from 3 o'clock to midday. The governor was equal to the occasion. He addressed an official communication to the convict as follows:
